Hi there, I am experiencing the same problem: I did reinstall the original driver from HP Recovery (9.. 14 3 1142 from 02/22/2013) This did help for the standby issue A corrupt driver is simply one that has become unusable or inoperable.. After this occurs, I get a notification on the desktop that reads: "Display driver stopped responding and has recovered" I have checked for updates on the device manager for the display driver, it says it is current.

A Display Driver is software which enables communication between your computer and your monitor, or screen.. When a driver is corrupted, the device that it controls also becomes inaccessible.. var q = 'corrupt+display+driver';Fairly common error on HP printers caused by malformed PostScript documents.. The monitor connects to your computer via the display Hi Guys , I have a HP Envy x2-g001tu computer, and I downloaded the Windows 8.
